If you've ever considered serving, this may be your opportunity!

October Gardening Tips:

- Clean up garden beds: Remove dead or diseased annuals and vegetable plants. Healthy material can go into the compost pile.
- Don't cut everything down! Leaving some perennial stems and ornamental grasses standing provides winter protection and habitat for beneficial insects.
- Protect perennials: After the ground begins to lightly freeze, add about 2-5 inches of mulch around most perennials to protect roots from freezing and thawing.
- Give trees and shrubs a good drink: Deep-water them before the ground freezes, especially newer plantings. During a dry winter, water occasionally when the ground is thawed and able to absorb moisture.
- Prepare the vegetable garden: Add compost or mulch to improve and protect the soil over winter.
- Dig tender bulbs: Dahlias, gladiolus and tuberous begonias should be dug and stored somewhere protected from freezing.
- Get irrigation ready for winter: Early October is a good time to drain and winterize sprinkler systems before freezing weather arrives.
